Hi Francesca,

I wanted to double check – Irving said that you had gotten the book called “open science” but I wanted to see if you need this other one ordered (attached) called “reproducibility and replicability” for the retreat, too? I think we talked about this a while back, but I just got a message about the ELI conference you’re attending which reminded me of the retreat you’re going to the week before - so I thought it would be a good time to double check!

Thanks,
